

Governance, Risk and Compliance in the Digital Age

The GDPR - New Horizons

Irene Loizidou Nicolaidou
Commissioner
For Personal Data Protection

Aim of the presentation

- What is expected of the General Data protection Regulation (GDPR)
- What changes with the GDPR
- How these changes affect people and businesses

The GDPR – uniform rules

- Directive vs Regulation
- More uniform and harmonized rules
- Beneficial for businesses operating in many MS

The GDPR – rights of data subjects

- Strengthens existing rights
- Introduces new rights
- Particular attention to children

The GDPR – new rights & obligations

- Right to be forgotten
- Data Portability
- Data Protection by default and by design
- Data breach notification

The GDPR – new rights & obligations

- Right to be forgotten
- Data Portability
- Data Protection by default and by design
- Data breach notification

The GDPR – reducing costs

- Cutting red tape
- One stop shop
- Abolishes notification and authorization system
- Document processing activities
- Data Protection Officer (DPO)

The GDPR – Attention to SMEs' needs

- Reduced obligations with regard to:
 - Codes of contact
 - Certifications
 - Documentation of processing activities
 - Data Protection Officer (DPO)

The GDPR – Transparency Accountability and Self Regulation

- Transparency – more information
- Accountability – comply but demonstrate compliance
- Self regulation – codes of contact, certifications, privacy seals
- The role of professional associations and bodies

The GDPR – The role of DPAs

- Strengthens their supervisory role
- More investigative and corrective powers
- Enhances cooperation
- Joint enforcement operations in cross-border cases
- Lead, competent and concerned DPAs

The GDPR – responsibility and liability

- More detailed provisions for controllers and processors
- Respective responsibilities for controllers and processors
- In case of joint controllers, each is liable for entire damage
- Dissuasive administrative fines

The GDPR – transfers to third countries

- On the basis of Adequacy Decisions
- On the basis of Appropriate safeguards
 - Binding Corporate rules
 - Standard Contractual Clauses
 - Codes of Contacts
 - Certifications
- On the basis of derogations

The GDPR – economic tool

- Economic growth
- Social Integration
- Citizens' trust in on-line activities
- E-commerce

Questions?

Γραφείο Επιτρόπου Προστασίας Δεδομένων Προσωπικού Χαρακτήρα

Ιάσονος 1, 1082 Λευκωσία
Τ.Θ. 23378, 1682 Λευκωσία

Τηλ: 22818456, Φαξ: 22304565

E-mail: commissioner@dataprotection.gov.cy

www.dataprotection.gov.cy